Magnificent Reefs

Thanks to the protections of a private marine preserve and a range of community-based conservation initiatives, the reefs surrounding Wakatobi are among the most pristine and bio-diverse on earth. Directly in front of the resort is the House Reef, which has been named the world's best shore dive. Divers and snorkelers often spend hours and even days exploring this expansive site, which can be accessed day and night right from the beach or the resort jetty.

At a majority of the sites visited by the resort's boats, reefs rise to within mere feet of the surface, and drop to depths below 60 feet. Steep slopes or walls are riddled with ledges and undercuts that harbor a wide assortment of marine life, while pinnacles, seamounts and shallow upper reefs add additional variety. These topographies create opportunities for long multilevel profiles that often exceed 70-minutes. The upper portions of these reefs are ideal for snorkelers, who also join daily boat trips.

Enjoy to conserve. A stay at Wakatobi Resort supports grass-roots programs that provide both proactive protection for the environment and tangible benefits to the community. A portion of resort revenue is shared with local fishermen in exchange for honoring no-take zones and adopting sustainable fishing practices, and residents of 17 villages are provided with a range of social benefits and infrastructure enhancements.

Wakatobi's Commitment to Conservation

Since its inception in 1997, the initiative known as the Wakatobi Collaborative Reef Conservation Program has become a benchmark for sustainable eco-tourism in marine management, served as the catalysis for the establishment of the Wakatobi National Park, and is now emulated by a growing number of entities around the world. This program protects 20 kilometers of coral reefs that are considered among the finest in the world.

Wakatobi is the region's leading employer. And in addition to generating financial benefits to local people, the resort maintains moorings to prevent anchor damage, provides clean water to an adjacent village, supplies area schools with educational material, organizes weekly cleanups, and works closely with local officials and governments on the issues of waste management and reef conservation.

Beyond the Reefs

When not exploring Wakatobi's world-class reefs, resort guests can take in a range of additional activities. Water sports include kayaking, stand-up paddleboarding, and seasonal kiteboarding. Guests can join Indonesian cooking, sarong wrapping workshops, culture and languages classes, and village tours. Bird watching is a particularly enjoyable way to spend surface intervals and has become a favorite pastime among many guests. There is also an on-site Spa providing rejuvenating therapies and relaxing Balinese massages. Families are welcome at Wakatobi and can enlist the service of dedicated nannies and a highly rated Kids Club.

Luxury Dive Yacht Cruises

Pelagian's main deck features a spacious, elegantly appointed salon with modern media center and adjoining dining area. Forward of the salon, photographers are provided a dedicated climate-controlled camera room with multiple charging stations.

Spacious indoor lounging areas are centered around the salon and adjoining dining space with an additional open dining/lounge area on the aft fantail deck.

Introducing Pelagian...

The Pelagian is a classic 115-foot yacht that provides a boutique-style liveaboard experience. The yacht hosts a maximum of 10 divers, allowing the crew of 12 to deliver the highest levels of welcoming personal service. This ultimate service ethos permeates all aspects of the onboard experience, from attentive cabin service and a luxurious lounge to chef-prepared and individually plated meals and concierge-style assistance with dive gear.

Pelagian's itineraries begin and end at Wakatobi Resort, presenting a prime opportunity to add a stay at the resort before or following your cruise. Please consult with your guest experience representative.

Accommodations

Guest accommodations include a Master Suite on the main deck and four below deck cabins: one Deluxe, two Superlux and one Standard. All cabins feature en suite bathrooms with full showers.

Diving from Pelagian

Diving takes place from two custom-made rigid-hull inflatable tenders equipped with tank racks and secure stainless-steel boarding ladders. Pelagian cruises a broad swath of the Wakatobi Regency including the southern side of Buton Island and takes in a diverse range of underwater environments—from reefs, walls and seamounts to exceptional muck diving sites.

Itineraries

Itineraries provide four dives daily, with the fourth sometimes reserved for night dives. Profiles often allow for bottom times of up to 70-minutes, with no restrictions other than those for safe no-decompression diving practices.

A perennial favorite is Pelagian's Master Suite, which is more reminiscent of an upscale hotel room than a boat.
